

WOMAN MENTALLY SUPERIOR TO MAN UP TO 25 YEARS

University of Arizona Survey Shows Men Forge Ahead After That Age

SHELTERED LIFE OF WOMEN IN PAST CURBED DEVELOPMENT

With Fair Sex Competing With Men Conditions Change

TUCSON, Ariz.—By the Associated Press. Women under 25 years of age are more intelligent than men of the same age, but after the 25th year men gradually pass women and attain a higher mental efficiency, according to statistics compiled in the administrative and educational departments of the University of Arizona.

The university cites its local statistics to show that the average scholastic standing for women students was considerably above the general university average, while the average for men was lower than the general average of all persons enrolled. The standings were:

Women's Standings Higher
General university average: 1.66
Women: 1.96,
Men: 1.56

Professor Alva O. Neal, university registrar and professor of rural education, contends that high school and college girls usually show more aptitude for study than high school and college boys. A 14-year-old high school girl, he says, is the mental equal of a boy of 16, in line with the condition that most women equal in intelligence men two years their senior until the women reach their 25th year.

Professor Neal attributes this to the longer period of infancy in men. Women mature more rapidly, he points out, but when men become developed completely they benefit by the increased preparation of the long adolescence. Thus men as adults attain more.

Suffer From Protection

He sees another factor in women's lack of necessity for competition. From this point of view, they "have suffered from too much protection." In biology, he explains, it is shown that protected animals, those that do not have to rely on their own powers to meet adverse conditions, fail to reach the high state of development attained by those fighting ahead single-handed and fighting past obstacles.

In the past, he recalls, women have led a sheltered life, and, therefore, men, having all the opportunities, attained their supposed mental superiority. Today, he sees, conditions are changing. With women entering the professions in continually greater numbers, competing with men in business, and "succeeding as well as men," he predicts that "men will have to step fast to maintain their standard of mental superiority over women after the age of maturity."

Eventually women may be the mental superior of men throughout life, the professor hazards.

NATIONAL MEN AND AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON.—It seems taken for granted now that no longer will a president of the United States ever send an annual message to Congress. In the future it always will be known as the President's address.

Whatever else he said of Woodrow Wilson, it will be written down in history that he established an extremely popular custom. President Harding was only too glad to follow in the footsteps of his predecessor, and President Coolidge has placed upon the custom a stamp of approval which will probably obtain for all time.

The advent of the radio has given a new significance to a president's address. No longer does the president address the members of the House and the Senate. He speaks to the entire people of the country—or at least as many as "listen in" as his voice is carried by the high-powered broadcasting stations from one end of the country to the other. There would be no doubt in the history of a future president's address in the House should a president be elected in the future, but the thought of the president's address in the House, but they cannot applaud the president is sufficient to insure that the president's address will be the first person for all time, to come, a speaker and say "Well done!" or

Many picturesque stories are related here in the capital of the presidential messages of the past. It was in New York City, however, that President Washington first addressed the Continental Congress. He was driven to the meeting house in great state. A coach and four was at his command. There were outriders in front of him and, behind him, members driving in procession behind him. Mr. Washington had to furnish his own coach. The government was not so generous then as it is now in its lavish supply of limousines for the president, for the president's wife and for other members of the presidential household.

Arriving at the Congress, President Washington passed down the aisle crowded with the national legislators and there addressed "The representatives of the people." It was many days before even a list of what he had to say penetrated to the rest of the colonies. It was weeks before his message arrived in full.

What a far cry to today! The president no longer addressed the "representatives of the people." He addresses the people direct. The people listen in. They may hear the applause of the representatives in the hall of the House, but they cannot applaud the president is sufficient to insure that the president's address will be the first person for all time, to come, a speaker and say "Well done!" or perhaps time in vain for the words they were expecting and that may not have been said.

The isolation of the White House is ended. The radio has penetrated its blue stone walls. If a president of the United States has anything to say to the people in the future he must say it "out loud." The nation always will be waiting at the other end of the ether.

The many friends of Colonel John Champion Fawthrop, C. B. F. M. C., the mighty British hunter who arrived in this country recently, out who has ventured no further into the hinterland than New York City are wondering why he does not come on to Washington where for two years at the close of the war he was a valuable aide of the British embassy. The Colonel has been busily engaged at the American Museum of Natural History seeing to it that the specimens of the six months' trip into the jungle are properly mounted and arranged in family groups. A Washingtonian desired to know, however, why it was the Colonel was so slow.

"The beastly trains!" he explained. "They hold you all night in a Pullman palace car and then dump you out in a howling blizzard in the morning. Imagine routing you out of bed at 6 o'clock. Beastly, I call it. There's nothing like that in the jungle."

"But," the Washingtonian expostulated, "there are day trains between New York and Washington."

"No," questioned the Colonel. "Yes."

"And how long does the journey require?"

"Five hours."

"Then tell them I shall be over."

Apparently it is fatal to a president of Mexico to be recognized by the United States government. Made to be recognized by the United States. Within a short time he was assassinated. The American government recognized Carranza and his reign soon was ended. Obregon was doing remarkably well in Mexico. He had reigned supreme for a number of years. But the American government would not recognize him.

We believed for a long time in "watchful waiting." Obregon did not know when he was well off. He craved recognition. At last it came to him about six weeks ago. Now the country is torn by revolution and Obregon's throne is tottering.

Like many another prophet, the American dollar is not without honor, save in its own country. European shipping lines are in dollar rates. The dollar is recognized in Germany, and elsewhere as the world's standard of international exchange. Nothing else is stable. And yet the dollar here at home is not what it used to be. It looks more like thirty cents.

COURT FIGHT MUST DECIDE ON FUNDS FOR STATE SCHOOLS

Zimmerman Refuses to Sign Emergency Appropriations Passed by Board

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 20.—The university and normal schools which have asked an emergency appropriation must await court action before their requests can be granted.

Governor John J. Blaine and State Treasurer Solomon Lovitt, two of the three members of the emergency board on Thursday, signed an emergency certificate for $155,000 for the educational institutions. Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman, third member of the board, refused to sign. On Friday morning he declared that he would not audit the certificate. The last session of the legislature failed to make an appropriation for the university and normals.

For weeks there has been a row between the members of the board over the emergency appropriation question. One of the claims made is that it is necessary for all of the members of the board to sign to make a certificate valid. The legal department, however, has discovered a law which provides that a majority of the members of a board can legally transact the business of the board. Should the court rule against the emergency appropriation, a special session of the legislature would be necessary to provide the emergency funds.

MESSANGERS IN LINE ALL NIGHT TO GET GOLD FROM REICHSBANK

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—The Associated Press. Goldbugs hunt the Reichsbank entrances every night. Messengers wrapped up in blankets stand the whole night long waiting for the bank to open at 10 o'clock on Friday for the gold money. Effort has been made to get the money out of the bank. They have crowded and against officials every night who issue numbers to the messengers in the order that they arrive. This enables the messengers to wrap themselves up in their blankets and go to sleep without fear of being detected by the guards.

RECENT DISASTER IN JAPAN PROVED BOY SCOUTS' WORTH

TOKYO, Dec. 20.—The Associated Press. Boy Scouts of Japan have come to the front wonderfully since the earthquake and fire. After working hard to rescue and feed children made homeless, they set themselves to attending spiritual needs, a work so necessary under the circumstances. Education centers were established under the name "The field school for the children," and leaders of Boy Scouts from the schools and universities volunteered as teachers. Books, pencils and paper were supplied free. Physical examinations and medical treatment are given to the children and their spiritual as well as their physical well-being is vigilantly cared for. The great spirit that has been kindered has resulted in an increased attendance daily.

This educational service will be continued until the schools can take care of the children. The movement, started in Tokyo, is spreading to other districts.

The neglected grave has been called to the attention of the Williams Historical Society and the neighbors of the American Revolution in the hope that something can be done to preserve the final resting place.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 20.—With a sweeping survey of the Russian situation by the state department committee in session after the holidays, further disclosure is expected to be made shortly in support of the state department charges of revolution in America emanating from the communist international and from the soviet government. It is recorded as merely a guide to the state department, which holds that it is impossible to draw a line of distinction between the two.

Senators Scout Charge

A resolution by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, urging the president to extend recognition to the soviet government will provide the basis of the senate inquiry. Senator Borah and Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, charged Thursday that there was no proof of the alleged revolution on the part of the Russian government. The senate inquiry is said to be a preliminary effort with the aid of the department of justice, which is regarded as establishing definitely the responsibility of Moscow for a movement to undermining the American government.

MAHLER'S UNFINISHED SYMPHONY COMPLETED BY HIS COLLEAGUES

VIENNA, Dec. 20.—The Associated Press. A fourth symphony by Gustav Mahler, the Austrian composer who died a few years ago, has been found among his effects. Although the score is incomplete, Mahler had sketched the theme for the movement so completely that his surviving colleagues have been able to finish the symphony. The composition, which is said to equal if not surpass Mahler's previous symphonies, will be given its first orchestration in Vienna this season. The composer was widely known in America.

COMINGS ATTACKS BLAINE TAX PLAN AT STURGEON BAY

Infers He Sought to Split Unity of the Progressives

"Were not these features better calculated to produce bitter antagonism rather than harmony?" "And why in his special message on taxation did he bring up the war and dry issue, if he wanted to get the progressive forces all together on a tax bill?"

"The governor says the Scrererson bill would have turned into the state treasury nearly twice as much money as the state needs. Why so? What ever it yielded could not that money have been used to reduce property taxes and thus relieve the overburdened farmer and small home owner?"

dreds of acres of property. Painting and cleaning the machinery is their principal task.

Likewise they keep guard of the vast surplus stores originally purchased to construct a village of some 1200 homes on the plant site.

Only a part of the village was ever built. Still on the grounds today lie some 300 bath tubs—scarcely fit for bathing now—and an endless quantity of tile, lumber, brick and plumbing.

The machinery in the two plants is in fairly good condition—that is, as far as it can be seen.

It will cost $150,000,000.

Some day the government hopes to get a peek at the mechanical entirety, however—this when it can appropriate $20,000 to purchase current from the Alabama Power Company, to which Uncle Sam leased the nitrate steam plant power house.

This sum, it is anticipated, will obtain sufficient power to revolve the giant wheels for a single hour's rust inspection. But the $20,000 first must be procured.

To operate the two nitrate plants, the dam with its huge powerhouse containing 18 generating units of 624,000 horsepower capacity is being built.

The entire project when completed—nitrate plants, dam and subsidiary units—will have cost the American public in excess of $150,000,000.

And for the day when operations are begun and the anticipated influx of population starts rolling in—to buy the land—Florence and her sister cities wait and hope and dream—in terms of millions.

TWO DIE IN TROLLEY SMASH

TOLEDO, Ohio.—Two men were killed and a boy injured when a street car was derailed at a crowded business corner.

Dream About It Constantly

Down where the mist looms thickest, swarms an army of 4000 workers, striving day and night to feed the tearing giant its steel and concrete that the wall may stand complete before flood time just a few weeks off.

All of this activity is being carried on by the government at a total cost of $50,000,000. The folks of Florence and her tri-sisters, Sheffield and Tusculum look upon it as their own particular heritage and pride.

In terms of Muscle Shoals and nothing else, the entire combined populations of 27,000 cats, sleeps, talks, dreams and thinks.

Seriously a citizen, bankers say, is to be found, who has not invested something in the land boom expected to follow completion of the monster dyke and subsequent starting of production at the mammoth nitrate plants dependent upon the dam for cheap power.

Harvest for the Realtors

Quite naturally in thinking and talking about Muscle Shoals, Florence and her surrounding equally interested municipal neighbors, give their share of speculation to Henry Ford's proposal of purchase of the entire properties.

But folks here—the majority of whom have waited so long for action that right now, few care much whether Ford "gets it" or the "government gets it."

They have dreamed and talked so long in anticipation of six-figure bank accounts, Shoals and land are synonymous to the population here. A brief walk down the streets of Florence or any of the surrounding municipalities confirms this.

Realty offices flock the thoroughfares. Subdivisions dot the countryside. Land is all the visitor hears and can talk with mutual interest.

But They're All Restless

Up and down the river, above and below the dam, now with 60 per cent of the necessary 1,200,000 cubic yards of concrete poured in place, enough property has been plotted for future subdivision development to accommodate several good-sized cities.

Money tied up in such speculative enterprise is the growing cause of much unrest. Likewise it is responsible for an increasing sentiment among sections of the population to wonder at the shrewdness of Ford's intention to purchase Muscle Shoals.

These folks waited long. And they want their dream of millions fulfilled.

Probably it is their intense interest in the shoals which makes them venerate at Ford's insistence that a duplicate of the Gorgas steam plant, 80 miles away on the Warrior River and recently sold to the Alabama Power Company, be built before he considers negotiations.

At the nitrate plants from which the expected cheap fertilizers are to come another veil of waiting is being kept. Some 60 men attend the hun-

MAKING A HOME TAKES BRAINS AND ABILITY

MADISON, Wis.—"The hurray for the opportunities for women in business rather than in homemaking is subsiding," declares Nell Beauden Nichols, contributing editor to national women's magazines and formerly of the staff of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, in a recent interview. "There are those who would have us believe that the need for homemakers is decreasing. They seem to think that little cooking, sewing, and laundrying will be carried on in the home in a few generations," Mrs. Nichols stated. Her opinion is that thinking men and women are not disturbed by such flights of fancy, and that fewer homes and homemakers would be a tragedy to our country. Women had been shut out of many professions and industries until a few years ago. When the opportunity came she proved herself a success in new fields, and now that she has seen that she decides that homemaking is the best proposition after all. She is convinced that it requires the use of as much skill, brain power, and executive ability as other occupations, according to Mrs. Nichols. "Since the strain and stress of the times is so acute, the task of being a homemaker is not so easy as it might seem," she continued. "For this reason, the better trained the woman is for the work, the happier it is for her, her family, and her community."

Making a Cord Finish for Neck of a Dress

COPYRIGHT BY M. CALLS

These sketches show how to put a cord in a bias fold and how to set this cord around the neck of the dress.

A very fine cord should be used. Cut a true bias strip about one and one-half inches wide for a fine cord. Sew together the edges of the bias strip with the seam to the wrong side. Turn the fold inside out, drawing a cord through as you turn the bias strip. Push the cord to one edge and hold it in place with a line.

A fine cord may also be used to set the lower part of the sleeve to the upper part of the sleeve and around the waist line.

A pleasing finish for a velvet or heavy cloth dress is a satin covered cord.

Beginning on April 16, the motor health unit made 105 stops in seventeen counties, ranging from the southern state line to Lake Superior and from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi river, according to a report of activities made today by the health department.

The car was accompanied by a trained staff which was engaged every day in educating rural and town residents in the physical needs of children. No treatment was given but defects were pointed out and referred to family physicians.

A total of 4,002 children of preschool age were examined during the tour, according to the report. The average daily attendance at demonstrations and examinations conducted by the state was 28 children. Counties covered during the season by the special included Waukesha, Washington, Fond du Lac, Manitowish, Wood, Marathon, Vilas, Douglas, Polk, Pepin, Buffalo, La Crosse, Crawford, Vernon, Marquette, Columbia and Walworth.

Only 73 or 18 per cent of the children examined were declared to be physically normal. Dr. Blanche Rivers had charge of the special most of the season, which ended November 16, and Dr. H. B. Sears the remainder.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW

DEAN REVIEWS
The Rover, by Joseph Conrad (Doubleday, Page.)
The Terms of Conquest, by Howard Vincent O'Brien (Little, Brown.)

BY JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK.—Joseph Conrad is graying with age. He is meditative, philosophic in "The Rover," his first novel in three years. He has probably been at the writing of this story over that long period, untroubled by the clamor of a world awaiting some new adventure from his pen.

"The complacency of the old fellow is somewhat disturbing to a young reader. He meanders a bit through the first hundred pages of the book, seeming to hide his own time in getting to his story."

His hero is Teyrol, a stalwart old pirate who fires of sailing the seven seas and settles in a sequestered spot on the Mediterranean, near Toulon.

That was in the early days of the French revolution when Admiral Nelson's blockade fleet hemmed in French shipping.

Teyrol becomes involved in the romance of a young girl over whom the horrors of the massacre have spread a pall of semi-insanity. A lieutenant of the French navy, entrusted with the mission of placing false plans of his country's navy in the hands of Admiral Nelson, becomes enamored of Arlette, the girl.

Teyrol, now hoary of age, senses the beauty of the romance between the young man and the girl and the degradation of both their lives if the romance is obstructed. He sees as his own old fate, is shot down as his craft is captured by one of Nelson's fleet, and dies as he achieves the greatest adventure in his adventurous life.

It isn't until Conrad gets his characters out to sea that he seems to be the vigorous Conrad of old. The character of Teyrol is simply the symbol of Conrad. He is a landsman now, looking upon blood when it is red and waters when they are rough only in retrospect. Life to him is a calm, but the tempest is just over the horizon.

And if life is now a placid surface to Conrad, he has earned his peace. Behind that placid surface is as stormy a career as any living writer has experienced.

As a little boy, Teodor Josef Conrad Kezelenowski, with his mother, followed his Polish father into exile. They taught him his letters from translations of French and English classics. When he was 9 he pointed to a space on the map of Africa and said, "I shall go there."

The list of American historical novels in which the author handles his romance simply as the means of picturing one or more phases of American life in the past several generations grows from week to week. This type of novel forms the greater bulk of the new books of the past six months.

Herbert Quick was probably first on the lists with his "Vandermere's Palace." By the time he had written "The Hawk," other writers were swinging into line with romances of early America. Notable in the number was Willa Cather's "The Lost Lady," Margaret Wilson's "The Able McLaughlins," Floyd Dell's "Man of the World," and Kathleen Norris' "Certain People of Importance."

Now Howard Vincent O'Brien has gone west for a tale covering episodes in American life from the time of the Homestead strike to the close of the world war. In "The Terms of Conquest" he sets forth the vastness and rapidity of social and political changes in our country.

The central figure of his story is Homer Gaunt, who leaves his home in Cold Harbor, Mich., to become a big lead in the big paddle of Chicago. The industrial slump which followed the railroad strike during Cleveland's administration reduces him to a state of poverty. He would have been completely submerged but for the aspiration of a woman. Spurred on by her, he gains control of a large printing establishment. He worked for years to form a combination of school textbooks publishers but ran afoul of labor organizers and "practical politicians."

Those were the days when "mergers," "trusts" and "combinations" were words generally associated in the public mind with arch capitalists. This attitude on the part of the public blocked his ascent at big business achievement. Other factors, such as the independence of workmen and the fight on capitalism, affected the career of the story's hero.

The love plot is slight. It is not so effectively handled as the sketch of American life over the lengthy and important era covered by the book.

In 1880, the south had about 10,000 miles of railway.

MADISON FACULTY AUTHOR ATTACKS U. S. RUSSIAN STAND

(Continued from page one) said till near the end of the term, estimated that the extraordinary commission had executed all told 5,000 people. Prof. Ross goes into detail about the 49 lies that were told about Russia and carried in the press of the world.

Wanted War, He Says

"Influential sections of the capitalist class, aided by great newspapers, big politicians, and powerful organizations, were doing their utmost to involve the United States in war with a people on the other side of the globe, one and one-half times as numerous as we, and inhabiting a country four times as extensive. The pretext was 'to stabilize government in Russia,' but the real motive was to stamp out the communistic experiment there and make the world safe for private capitalism. All leaders of the brave handful—such as Colonel William B. Thompson, Colonel Raymond Robins, Major Allen Wardwell, Major Thomas B. Thatcher, Captain Walter Tetlow, Mr. William Bullitt, Miss Bessie Beatty, Mr. Oliver M. Saylor, Professor Jerome Davis and others—who knew revolutionary Russia and who sought to open the eyes of our people to the anti-bolshevik propaganda and conspiracy.

"We are now in a position to appreciate the letter the British commissioner, Lockhart, wrote Colonel Robins on May 5 on the eve of the latter's leaving for home. In this letter he enumerates no less than six instances in which Trotsky had shown his willingness to work with the allies. And the other instances have already been set forth in this chapter, and we have a convincing array of proof that the soviet government was no creature of the Germans, but an independent entity playing its own hand in the world. Yet the American state department never made known the fact that the soviet government expressed a willingness to pledge of allied aid were forthcoming, to fight the Germans again. When Colonel Robins returned in May at Vladivostok, at Tokyo, and again at Seattle, he found messages from the state department forbidding him to talk for publication. And when he reached Washington the president would not see him."

COOLIDGE STAND IN MESSAGE HELD THE VITAL FACTOR

Was For Harding

Had President Harding lived he would have had Mr. Ford's support for re-nomination and re-election. He wrote Mr. Harding a letter promising support though it never was made public. Mr. Ford gave them virtually the same reasons he is giving now for supporting Mr. Coolidge. He doesn't want to see the country disturbed by a presidential contest. His motto, in effect, which may become that of the republican candidate, is "Let well enough alone."

COMET GETS LOST; LONG OVERDUE ON PERIODICAL VISIT

LEIPSI, Germany.—Astronomers at Leipzig university are searching the heavens for the D'Arrest comet, already considerably overdue on its periodical visit.

The comet was named in honor of Heinrich D'Arrest of the Leipzig observatory, who discovered it in 1851. It appeared every six or seven years alternately thereafter until 1917 when it was not seen. It is due again this year but is still missing.

In 1920 astronomers were started to see in the vicinity of Jupiter a heavenly body much resembling D'Arrest's comet and consequently since the comet has not appeared in its usual place many observers are inclined to think the planet has attracted it from its old course. Others believe the D'Arrest may have disappeared permanently.

BEACH-JONES TO OPEN NEXT WEEK IN "NICE PEOPLE"

Rachel Crothers' Play Vehicle for Favorite Stock Players

A brisk sale of seats opened at the Majestic Theatre, Friday morning, indicating that the Beach-Jones Stock Company will be greeted by large houses next week. The opening play, "Nice People," with Elodie Sitzer, "The Little Redhead," in the part of "Teddy" Gloucester, made famous by Francine Lawrence in New York and Chicago last season, is one of the most successful hits the Beach-Jones Players have offered.

"Nice People" is a sprightly comedy, written with the dash and brilliancy that Rachel Crothers' pen always commands, and the story continues itself up one of the trial problems of the hour. Miss Crothers has taken for her theme, the fast pace, the lax manners, the floating of property, by the young people of New York society. "Teddy" leader of a coterie of these "nice people" is a high spirited, spoiled, self-willed daughter of wealth who plunges into an escapade which threatens to cut her off from family and friends. How she extricates herself from this dilemma and finds love and happiness in her regeneration, is told in a succession of scenes never flagging in humor.

CLEAN-UP PROMISED FOND DU LAC AFTER SUICIDE OF WOMAN

FOND DU LAC, Wis.—Police announced Friday that a clean-up of all undesirable persons will be made here, following an investigation of the suicide of Mrs. Hazel Burns Thursday.

Roy Morse, United States district attorney, spent the morning investigating a telephone call which Mrs. Burns received shortly before she swallowed poison and announced that the call had no connection with the woman's act.

Mr. Burns, husband of the woman, is to be given police protection from friends of James White, Thomas, and Frank Ward, held in connection with the recent Campbellport postoffice robbery. According to reports reaching the police, Burns has been threatened by friends of the men now under arrest.

Tom Mason, James Burns and James Kinner, arrested Thursday as suspects in the Campbellport case were taken to Waupun Friday for identification. Mr. Morse said, he would continue his investigation here and predicted that other arrests in the case would follow.

WEST COAST DOCTOR SAYS SMOKING IS GOOD FOR DISEASE

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—Men of Sacramento learned yesterday from no less an authority than Dr. Fred F. Gundrum of this city, vice president of the state board of health, that smoking, instead of being prohibited, is being presented in some cases of stomach trouble. A pipe is preferred, although cigarettes and cigars may be used, according to Dr. Gundrum.

S. S. MAJESTIC CLAIMS NEW EASTBOUND MARK ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

NEW YORK.—The Majestic of the White Star line announced by wireless upon her arrival at Cherbourg Friday that she had set a new east-bound transatlantic of five days, 7 hours and 27 minutes. The old record, 5 days, 9 hours and 53 minutes was made by the Majestic in 1922.

TO DEPORT RED RYAN

MENNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Plans for the deportation of Norman (Red) Ryan, a Canadian bank bandit, as an undesirable alien, have been practically completed by local police, United States department of immigration, and the Canadian department of justice, it was learned Friday.

Total of 278 claims aggregating $22,600,000 were recently allowed against Germany by the mixed claims commission for the sinking of the Lusitania.

JUST ONE TERM FOR PRESIDENT?

WASHINGTON.—Limit the president of the United States to one term! One term, preferably of six years' duration, with no possibility of re-election.

Largely because of the death of President Harding, this proposal, which has been up before, has gathered more momentum. And today a strong sentiment exists in the 68th congress, which is just about to convene, to amend the constitution and bring about this change in our presidential election laws.

On the basis of a referendum just completed for the Tribune and Leader-Press by NEA Service, a large majority of the new Congress seem to favor the measure.

The Reasons

Letters were written, in the Tribune and Leader-Press poll, to every senator and every representative in the United States. Replies were received from 206.

And this is the result: For the one-term amendment—115. Against the amendment—68. Non-committal or undecided—23.

Various reasons have been given in behalf of this measure, among them that it would make the president independent of politics by relieving him of another campaign; that a six-year term would give the executive more time for a good job; that the unlimited right of re-election is dangerous.

Beneath the strain of executive responsibility, worry and a man-killing regimen, Warren Harding broke down and died. His tragic end plunged an entire nation in mourning and brought forth the question: How shall we save our president?

So, today, and because President Harding collapsed at the time plans were being made for his next campaign, it is argued that freeing presidents of the worry and the strain, the politics and the health-shattering campaigning of a re-election, will leave them free to pay more attention to their real work—and their health.

FAILURE TO GRANT FUNDS TO SCHOOLS NOT TO CLOSE THEM

Have Money Enough to Run Normals and University Several Months

MADISON, Wis.—There is no immediate danger of the state university and normal schools being required to close because of the controversy over emergency funds following the action of the state emergency board yesterday, university and normal recent officials declared Friday.

William Kille, secretary of the normal regents, stated that the normals would be able to operate until June 1 under available funds. It was said by university officials that they can go ahead for several months.

Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman declared Friday that he opposed the emergency funds voted by Governor Blaine and State Treasurer Levan because there is a balance at the present time of over $3,000,000 in the university and normal school operation funds. The university operation balance is $2,561,000 and the normal schools, $630,000, he stated.

"By the statement of school officials, the educational institutions will not be required to close this year," Mr. Zimmerman said. "The funds required by the governor and state treasurer are entirely under the terms of capital and maintenance. Under the state laws, funds can be used from operation balances for necessary repairs in case of an emergency."

SOVIET MINISTER DENIES RUSS AIDED WORKERS PARTY

MOSCOW.—By The Associated Press.—Foreign Minister Tchitcherine issued a statement Friday denying that the Russian soviet government ever sent any documents to the American workers' party or had ever had any connection with it whatsoever. If such documents exist, the statement declared, they are forgeries, the authenticity of which Russia would like to submit to arbitration.

NASH GIVES $340,000 IN EMPLOYEES' GIFTS

KENOSHA, Wis.—The first big Christmas distribution among Kenosha manufacturing plants took place Friday when the Nash Motors company distributed more than $340,000 among the employees of the company as Christmas gratuities. This included a Christmas gift of a ten dollar bill to each of the five thousand shop workers and larger bonuses on salaries.

Christmas bonuses were also given by Simmons company, the Allen A. Cooper Underwear company, and other plants. The Frank L. Wells company, in addition to a money bonus, gave every employee half of a dressed hog.

It was said that the Christmas bonuses in Kenosha would be close to a million dollars.

ST. LOUIS BANK CLOSED; $500,000 SHORT, REPORT

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The Chippewa bank in the southern part of the city, was closed, and a report reached prosecuting officials that the shortage may reach $500,000. Gottlieb Myer, president, issued a statement that the cashier, Joseph S. Carr, confessed that he was short in his accounts and returned $34,000, but that the exact shortage has not been ascertained. The capital of the bank is given as $200,000 and the surplus as $100,000.

I think it better that the constitution be left alone.

Representative R. Clint Cole, O.—Yes. It would save the lives of presidents and give them opportunity to achieve greater things.

Different Opinions

Representative John J. McSwain, S. C.—Yes. I think one term of four years is about all one man can stand under modern conditions.

Representative Elmer Thomas, Okla.—No. The present plan should influence executives to act in accordance with the desires of the majority of people. I am not convinced that an election to the presidency is either a suicide pact or a condemnation to death.

Of the 115 who voted in favor of one term, 79 advocated a six-year term. The remaining 46 favored terms ranging from four to eight years. (Copyright, 1923 by NEA Service)

MIND BABIES AND CASH CHECKS ON BUDD'S RAILWAY

CHICAGO, Ill.—Warning milk for a baby, wrapping a passenger's mashed finger, even cashing a check for a worthy-looking person who must ride—these are part of the day's work for Judd I. Budd's conductors, just as much as collecting tickets.

Budd thus explains why the Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee railroad was picked to receive the Charles A. Coffin medal. This is for "distinguished contribution to the development of electric transportation for the convenience of the public and the benefit of the industry."

Road Rejuvenated

It also helps explain the road's attainment of this honor in the seven years since Budd assumed control of the line with equipment, morale and prestige broken by a decade under receivership.

"We set a high standard for the road, and appealed to our employees' pride to reach and maintain it," explains President Budd. "Our men are working to give more than is required to make the passenger feel like a guest and a friend."

"We set out to develop the best electric railroad in the United States. It takes a goal to work toward. If definite results are to be accomplished, today, I believe honestly that a majority of our men feel they are working for the best road."

Both Sides Help

The company is doing its share in co-operation, too. Recently the conductors and motormen were given a pay increase not called for in the wage agreement effective until June.

"The company is doing well," was the explanation on installment payments, in addition to the usual student loan funds, clubs, classes, etc.

A $1,000 prize went with the Coffin award. It went into the employees' benefit fund. And so it goes, with good will on both sides.

"The service which went with the Coffin medal is the result of team work all along the line, and not any individual stardom," Budd informs those who would praise him. "A company may have all the money it can possibly spend on improvements, etc., but it can't succeed unless it has the co-operative spirit of its employees in their work."

WOULD CONFISCATE RUM BOATS THOUGH WITHOUT LIQUOR

BOSTON, Mass.—Proceedings asking the forfeiture of six motorboats seized by coast guards on Wednesday night while in the neighborhood of the rum ships anchored about twenty miles off Cape Ann are to be instituted by federal authorities, it was announced Friday. When all the boats were found free from liquor their crews were released.

The government contends that the boats, being pleasure craft, were outside their license rights in engaging in a commercial enterprise and that they were illegally holding communication with foreign vessels outside the territorial waters of the United States.

One-Armed Golfer in Match

Cecil Gardner, a son of Major Gardner of the British army, has the distinction of being an expert golfer, although he has only one arm. He enters the championship matches of the Shroton Hill Golf Club near Dunbar, and he plays against the best in the club. He enters the more closely contested matches with a handicap of only 18, which is considered remarkably as some players have the full use of both members have that handicap and higher.

tion of Congress is represented in the referendum. East and west, north and south, new congressmen and old congressmen, progressive and conservative. Many voted just "yes" or "no". Others explained their position.

What They Say

Here is what some of the say: Senator T. H. Curaway, Ark.—Yes. The president ought not to be helpless as he sometimes is because of his desire to succeed himself.

Representative Victor L. Berger, Wis.—Yes. I would also pension our ex-presidents. I want them to be economically independent after their term expires.

Senator David L. Walsh, Mass.—No. Democracy is best preserved by short terms and frequent elections.

Representative Joseph W. Fordney, Mich.—No. An attempt to change it would involve an amendment to the constitution. If future amendments are not any better than the last one,

WIDOWS TO GET SAME PENSIONS AS HUSBANDS, RULING

AWARDED HIS RAILROAD

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Reversing a practice that has been followed many years in determining pensions for widows of Civil war and other veterans, Secretary Work, in a decision Friday ruled that no widow shall be denied a pension where the essential facts are the same as those on which a husband was paid. Heretofore a veteran's service record was investigated in adjudicating widows' claims, and the pension bureau has on file hundreds of claims of widows who have been denied pensions under the same laws by which their husbands continued to draw a pension until death.

LEVIATHAN STUCK ON GOTHAM REEF

NEW YORK.—By The Associated Press.—The Leviathan, queen ship of the American Merchant Marine, inbound from Cherbourg Friday, grounded on Robin's Reef in New York harbor. A call was sent for available tugs. The ship grounded after she had passed Quarantine on the way back to her dock.

The tide was ebbing when the Leviathan grounded. It will be 8 p. m. before the high water mark again will be reached. The reef was considerably to the west of the main ship channel. The operators of the Leviathan were without advice at 11:15 as to how the vessel came to be so far off her course.

SAILSTAD AND GIRL WILL BE SENTENCED ON DECEMBER 28

Wife's Insurance Case Sent Back to District Court in Superior

SUPERIOR, Wis.—Edward J. Sailstad and Dorothy Anderson will be sentenced for their past misdeeds on Friday, December 28, when they will appear before Judge Archibald McKay in superior court here, District Attorney Robert E. Kennedy announced Friday.

When arraigned before Municipal Judge F. S. Parker Thursday afternoon on a charge of arson, resulting from the burning of Sailstad's summer cottage at Lake Nebanagon in August, 1920, in which the body of a man had been placed to make it appear Sailstad had perished to further an insurance hoax, the couple pleaded guilty and were bound over to superior court for sentence.

Insurance Case Remanded

CHICAGO, Ill.—A writ of error filed on behalf of the New York Life Insurance company to obtain an appeal from an award of insurance to the supposed widow of Edward Sailstad was dismissed on Friday in the United States circuit court of appeals.

Judge Evan A. Evans and George T. Page, in dismissing the writ, remanded the case to the district court of Superior, Wis., where the decision awarding $12,000 insurance to Mrs. Leona F. Richardson, formerly Mrs. Leona F. Sailstad, was rendered. Since the case was argued before the circuit court of appeals the "deceased" was reported found alive.

STATE DRY CHIEF SAYS HE'S WORKING ON HURLEY CASES

MADISON, Wis.—State prohibition officers have been operating in Hurley, Iron county, throughout the summer. State Prohibition Commissioner Herman W. Sachtjen declared Friday, commenting on published statements regarding alleged lawlessness there. Mr. Sachtjen also said that federal prohibition officers recently conducted an inquiry at Hurley, which resulted in several arrests.

Governor Blaine has not given out a statement of the reported situation at Hurley.

FREIGHT KILLS OSHKOSH MAN

OSHKOSH, Wis.—James Geer, aged 45, residing on Second avenue, West Alzona, was almost instantly killed when he fell beneath the wheels of a north-bound freight train on the Soo road, while attempting to beat a ride to a lumber camp at Neopit, Wis., where he planned to get work. He leaves a wife and four children.

SEIZE TRIO FOR ALLEGED SHARE IN $100,000 FRAUDS

I. W. W. Man, Wife and Pal Taken for Forgery of Railroad Pay Checks

CHICAGO, Ill.—Jack McDonald, once an I. W. W. member, with his wife and another man, were seized by the police Friday in connection with the operations of a band which is said to have printed counterfeit pay checks purporting to have been issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad, to the amount of $100,000 and to have cashed many of them.

Man Also Held

Besides McDonald, whose wife is said to have been involved with him in I. W. W. strikes and troubles during the war, Thomas Murphy was arrested with the McDonalds in their flat on the West Side. Mrs. Anna McDonald, according to the police, was suspected of having knowledge of the carrying of dynamite to strikers in Denver during the war-time activities of the I. W. W.

Many of the counterfeit and forged pay checks are said to have been cashed in Gary, Ind., South Chicago, and other points in the Calumet industrial district.

Are Not Leaders

The railroad investigators declared that McDonald, his wife and Thomas Murphy, who was seized with them, are not the leaders in the operations. They were arrested in connection with the theft of a truckload of merchandise from a station on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and under questioning admitted having passed some of the checks.

The authorities are chiefly interested in locating the place where the bogus checks are printed, as the spurious paper is said to be a very good imitation.

SECOND HEARING ORDERED BY BLAINE IN HURLEY SLAYING

HURLEY, Wis.—A second hearing ordered by Governor Blaine, was started at the court-house here Friday for William Nurnal, confessed slayer of Hjalmar Lehto, River Branch farmer, with whom he quarreled last winter.

At the first hearing, Judge J. E. C. Shumard dismissed the case on the ground that Nurnal shot in self-defense. Friends of the Lehto family appealed to the governor for another hearing with the result that it was ordered. Robert M. Reiser, assistant attorney general of Wisconsin, is prosecuting the case.

More than a dozen witnesses were called Friday morning and in the majority of cases the testimony previously given by witnesses was accepted for this hearing.

Friends of Nurnal claim that Lehto was a member of a socialist crowd of Finnish farmers and that Nurnal, who had prospered with a small store, was the object of jealousy that led to the shooting. Lehto was shot on a lonely road near River Branch, eight miles north of there, and there were no witnesses to the affair. Nurnal gave himself up shortly after the shooting.

EMIGRATION TO BE CONFERENCE TOPIC AT ROME IN 1924

International Labor Bureau is Seeking to Co-ordinate Services of Various Countries

GENEVA.—Close collaboration by international labor bureau whose headquarters are at Geneva will mark the international conference on emigration and immigration to be held at Geneva early next year. The large scale of material which the labor office has collected on these questions will be placed at the disposal of the conference, which will be held in the city of Geneva, Switzerland, and will be of a technical and not a political character, and will endeavor to establish co-ordination between the services of emigration and immigration of the different countries and frame principles which will serve as the basis for later international agreements.

Following the agitation in England, new newspapers are now publishing stories about Swiss citizens who refused to be drafted for military service in the United States and were sent to the United States in order to be drafted. These communications allege the existence of forced conditions in the detention buildings, and characterize the treatment of the detainees as inhuman. A young Swiss student who was proceeding to the United States to accept a scholarship at a western university wrote the journal de Geneve that he was detained 24 hours, and was not permitted to appeal to the Swiss minister for assistance. His papers were in order and he had been assured by American officials abroad that he was exempt from the quota limitation.

FORTUNA VOWED SHE NEVER WOULD RIDE AGAIN--AND FOR 70 YEARS HAS KEPT HER WORD

NEW ORLEANS.—Seventy years now has Fortuna Lombardi kept her vow.

Seventy years has she shunned travel in all forms.

Seventy years back—back in the early fifties, when she was only 8—Fortuna arrived in New Orleans, a little Italian immigrant girl.

Three months she and her parents were at sea in a storm-tossed sailboat, out of Genoa. Thrice they were near death.

Still trembling with fear she walked down the gangplank at the old cotton press, down on the levee.

Suro Was Scared

And the first human being her eyes fell upon was a swarthy colored mammy, whose glistening white teeth and gleaming eyeballs were topped by a flaming red handkerchief.

The little immigrant girl had never seen a colored person before.
She sat down on knees and raised her childish hands in supplication to the blessed Virgin Mary.

Believing her life in danger, she promised, if it were spared, she never would travel again.

Today, nearing 80, Fortuna still sells fruit in the Louisville & Nashville railroad depot. Seventy years she has sold it there.

FORTUNA LOMBARDI

Aristocratic Customers

She has seen uncounted thousands of trains come and go. The Mississippi river, with passing steamers, is in plain sight. Street cars clang by her stand.

But Fortuna never has ridden an inch on any of them. Daily she lugs up the levee to her fruit stand. Nightly she walks home.

As a young woman, she married Giuseppe Lombardi. When he died, she was left with five children. Two since have died. Two have married.

For 41 years she has supported herself and a remaining paralyzed son. Seven decades of Orleanians have known her only as Mary. And that's all.

She has sold fruit to Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft.
And she sold it to General Diaz of her own native Italy, to Marshal

Foch, to Jefferson Davis and to the soldiers of three wars—Civil, Spanish-American and World.

Owens Her Home

"I'll never starve. I own my little house. I don't owe anybody a cent," she says.

"I even bought my tomb in old St. Louis cemetery. No, I ain't making a poor mouth."

"Men are good to me. There was President Jefferson Davis when we were fighting the Yankees. He bought a whole basket of fruit."

"Men are good, and God is good.
I ain't complainin'. I go to St.
Mary's church and say my prayers to St. Mary."

"And God and the blessed Mary are taking care of me. I kept my promise."

NIGHT TRAVELERS ARE VICTIMS OF GERMAN ROBBERS

Passengers on Trains Murdered and Robbed; Crime Increases Daily

BERLIN.—By The Associated Press.—Robberies have become so numerous on railway trains throughout Germany that travelers are wary about making night journeys in compartments with strangers. One man was recently murdered in a compartment and his body thrown from the train by a criminal who has not been apprehended. Robbery was clearly the motive as all the murdered man's money and valuables were missing when the body was found and his baggage in the compartment had been rifled.

In some cases the victims have been chloroformed, and in others they have been gagged so they could not make an outcry.

Persons who buy first-class tickets in Germany may have a two-hour sleeping compartment without sharing it with another passenger. But even this is not a guarantee against theft, as thieves manage to get the doors of compartments open during the night in spite of the vigilance of trainmen.

Extra guards have been placed on many trains, and the public has become so cautious about leaving windows open that thieves find it more difficult to get admission to compartments.

Couches of all classes in Germany have compartments. There are no cars similar to those used on American railways. But the second and third class compartments are generally crowded and have seats for more persons than the first-class compartments. While such compartments afford sneak thieves a chance to rifle the baggage of sleeping fellow passengers there is little chance for criminals to use anesthetics on so many persons, and many travelers are electing the cheaper accommodations for night travel.

During the first six months of 1923 thief drugs valued at $9000 sent from Honolulu have been seized by the authorities.

Board Does Much

The Board of Control has done effective work in supervising the physical aspects of county institutions. The sanitary condition of these has unquestionably been improved. County poor houses and county jails have been benefited. Moreover, it has made some contributions to the education of the unfortunate, by compelling, at least once from the degrading policy imposed upon it by traditions and laws. Notable among these is the work in connection with the chronic insane. A mental survey was made which brought to light many possible ways of reducing mental defects in the state. A study of the necessity for mothers' pensions was made, and out of this grew our present civilization laws that are a help and an encouragement to the present time. A child labor program was established, with far-reaching powers. It was hoped that this Division would effect an adequate state organization for the giving to dependent and neglected children the benefit of the most improved schools, without grossly expending money. The public should be aroused to the importance of establishing a system of employment for the poor, and the state should endeavor to employ men and women who trade so that they may, without extreme difficulty, support themselves and their families. It is unquestionable a fact that the larger number of our citizens are unable to support themselves, and that the state is a burden to the penal institutions.

4. The public should be aroused to the importance of the state and county local volunteer welfare board, that will assist the county authorities in the care of the poor, and in the care of neglected and orphaned children, and that will also assist the board of members in all projects where it is possible to do so.

5. The public should be aroused to tory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhs of the bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist for Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

CHRISTMAS ART WORK OF NORMAL STUDENTS VIEWED BY OVER 500

Display Arranged by Miss Rena Angell Attracts Considerable Attention

The art room of the La Crosse Normal school was the scene of an interesting display of Christmas art work by the normal students. The display, which was arranged by Miss Rena Angell, attracted considerable attention. The art work was displayed in a room which was decorated with Christmas decorations. The display included a variety of art work, including paintings, drawings, and crafts. The students had spent a great deal of time and effort on their work, and the display was a testament to their creativity and skill.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—Just now when there is a good deal being said about high taxes in Wisconsin driving industries from the state, it is well to be reminded that in this correspondence it has frequently been pointed out that taxes in Wisconsin are no higher than in any other state which corresponds to this in population and in the character of its industries. Any state that is maintaining an educational system of equal value, is building as many miles of permanent highways, is maintaining as useful a state park system, etc., will have to raise the money to carry on its activities either by indirect or direct taxation. There has been no graft in the state's revenue, and possibly no more extravagance in expending public money than is invariably found in a state's fiscal system.

The trouble that is likely to drive out big enterprises from the state, then, is not high taxes. It would be more apt to be the result of any of the things that are being done in Wisconsin that they object to paying their share of the expenses of government. Big business in Wisconsin has never been taxed more heavily because they were high. The real trouble is, then, that it is the threat of disburdening the state which makes business men timid. The attempt to make the last session of the Legislature, for example, to cut it rough measures that would have worked great injury to business and property, make all the more likely seriously on public affairs from the future. The cry that has been heard, so often, since the present administration came into power, that the burden must be taken off one man and put on another, coupled always with the implication that business at the head of all big business enterprises are trying to beat the state out of taxes due from them, and so on. These are the tax matters which threaten to drive industries out of the state.

In a decision handed down on December 14th in the case of Railroad Commission against the Washburn Waterworks, the Supreme Court hit the powers of the Railroad Commission a pretty severe blow. The Commission six years ago ordered the City of Washburn to extend its water mains along certain streets, and gave the city until June 1, 1918 to comply with the order. The extensions were never made and the Commission asked the State to begin proceedings to recover penalties for a failure to comply with the order. In the Circuit Court for Dane County, Judge Thompson sitting, it was held that the City Council of Washburn that had the power to order the extensions, there was having jurisdiction. The Supreme Court affirmed the decision of the lower court.

This question involved was the constitution of Sec. 1797M-87, Statutes of 1917, of the public utilities law.

This statute never specifically conferred the power on the Railroad Commission to order such extensions, but did give such authority to cities. But in the Railroad Commission law, a similar power was given to the Commission, and the Commission has been petitioning for number of years under the assumption that it possessed the power which it has under the other law.

LIQUOR 'SCRIPT CHECK IS BEGUN BY H. T. SACHTJEN

State Prohibition Commissioner Making Final Drive on Doctors Who Haven't Permits

MADISON, Wis.—A final drive for the present year check up of all physicians and doctors in the state issuing liquor prescriptions without a state permit has been inaugurated, State Prohibition Commissioner Herman T. Sachctjen announced Tuesday. Nearly $1,000 already has been collected in the movement to get a final check on the physicians.

To check closely physicians who have not obtained state permits, federal prohibition lists have been examined by the state department and names of all those having permits from the federal government and not from the state have been taken.

Failure on the part of many physicians to obtain a state permit has been caused by misunderstanding regarding the requirements of the state law, Commissioner Sachctjen said. He pointed out that although a physician can obtain a permit from the federal department a permit from the state department is also required.

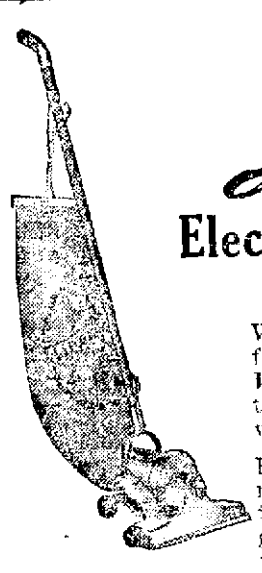

Commissioner Sachctjen stated also that physicians are subject to a penalty for failure to obtain a state permit.

COURT PROCEEDINGS IN OIL COMPANIES HELD IMPROBABLE

Testimony and Evidence Collected by State for Use in Future Inquiries

MADISON, Wis.—Court proceedings as a result of recent hearings conducted by the attorney general and state marketing departments into operations of large oil companies in Wisconsin are improbable, a state official declared today.

It was said that testimony collected by the state at the hearings will be preserved for use in future investigations into alleged monopolistic activities of companies.

The testimony offered at the hearings has had a desired effect on public opinion, the state official said. However, it is declared to be inadvisable for the state to undertake court proceedings against any of the big companies, since such action probably could not be closed in several years.

Representatives of independent oil companies operating in the state offered testimony at the hearings alleging that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana directly fixes prices of oil and gasoline in Wisconsin. Officials state other testimony alleges that independent companies are forced to follow prices set by the Standard company and that to reduce prices lower than that set by the Indiana company would result in failure of independent companies.

The series of hearings on oil operations were conducted under supervision of Attorney General Benjamin T. Elston and State Marketing Commissioner Edward Nordman.

PRIZED COLLECTION OF INDIAN RELICS AT BELOIT COLLEGE
40,000 Pieces of Pottery, Arrow Heads, Stone Axes in Logan Donation VALUABLE INDIAN PAINTINGS TO BE ADDED TO COLLECTION
Most of Pottery Made Before the Time of Columbus

BELOIT, Wis.—By the Associated Press.—More than 40,000 pieces of pottery, arrow heads, stone axes and other Indian relics are contained in the Logan collection, in the possession of Beloit College, here. The exhibit is rated by Professor George Collier, of the department of anthropology, as one of the best such collections in the country.

To Get Indian Paintings
To this collection will be added a number of Indian paintings by artist Norton, of the Chicago Art Institute. These also are to be the gift of Mr. Logan. (Chicago, Ill.) The collection of Indian paintings, life-size, will be included in the gift. One-half are of the evolution of man. One-half are of the evolution of the Indian. The paintings will be required in the painting of the pictures, according to Professor Collier.

The Logan collection now numbers 40,000 pieces of arrowheads of all sizes; 1,000 copper ornaments, including arrowheads; 1,000 stone axes; 1,000 pieces of pottery, embracing various types, including and Puebloan, besides scores of other relics. Much of the pottery contained in the collection is listed as having been made before the time of Columbus. About 100 pieces are claimed to have been wrought by the Chiriqui race, which existed, though one time inhabitable, what is now Panama, Central America.

Rare Fluted Axes Shown
In the Indian ax collection, thirty specimens are shown—a rarity among the line of implements. Fluted axes, Professor Collier asserts, only are to be found in Wisconsin.

Where southwestern Indians used clay for pottery, vessels of northern Indians usually were of wood, according to Professor Collier.
The original gift of Mr. Logan has been enhanced by numerous other gifts in recent years. The collection contains one of the largest and best assortments of necklaces in the United States, it is said. Some of the more valuable items contain warm gem discs.

To Benefit College
How the collection came to acquire its present name is related by Prof. Collier as a profound wish on the part of the donor to benefit the college by a gift that would last through the ages and yield knowledge to the future generations. The nucleus of the collection was found in the exhibit of Major Rust, Pasadena, Cal., at the world's fair in Chicago, in 1893. Mr. Logan purchased the exhibit and it made its appearance in Beloit shortly afterward. At Chicago it was given an award of merit, a document now in possession of the college.

Major Rust also has contributed to the collection since the original purchase.
Beginning last September, a chair of anthropology was created at Beloit college. It was given financial backing by Mr. Logan, who desired that it be called the Collier chair of anthropology, in honor of Professor Collier, who occupies it. Professor Collier states he accepted the post for a five year period only as he has voiced his intention of retiring after that time. He has been connected with Beloit college for 33 years, chiefly in the department of geology. Professor Collier also is dean of men. At Beloit he gives courses in Indian matters and early man.

Prosecution of international hostilities would be made "a public crime" and a judicial substitute for war would be provided "in the nature of an international court." WISCONSIN HELD PIONEER STATE IN POTATO GROWING

Commercial Production Began Here Between 1875 and 1880, Records Show

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin was one of the pioneer states in commercial potato production, according to state marketing department officials. Tradition has it that sometime between 1875 and 1880, the first carload of potatoes went from the town of Sheridan north to a lumber company in exchange for a carload of sawlogs. Officials declare that this marks the beginning of commercial potato production in the state.

In the early days, it is said, Wagon and Wagonettes carried the potatoes to market. At the present time, about four fifths of the seven-tenths of the state are reported to produce potatoes on a commercial scale. Wagonettes still hold as they have left the church-steps, but they have a leading station with a board, and give themselves up to eating and merrymaking.

Christmas—what a glorious time it is! People are hurrying here, there and everywhere, trying to find a gift to delight the heart of some friend. Parties are planned and programs are given. There is electricity in the air; a sparkle in everyone's eyes, and a smile on all lips.

Everyone is happy and merry, but do many people know the true meaning of Christmas? Do they realize why they are happy, or why they spend so much money and time in preparing for this one day? Christmas day is the anniversary of the birth of Christ and the salvation of the world. How many stop to think of this? Most people, of course, attend church on this day, but as soon as they have left the church-steps, they forget much that they have heard, and give themselves up to eating and merrymaking.

IODINE IN DIET HELD GREAT NEED IN GOITER BELT

Persons in Minnesota and Near Lake Superior Need Food Rich in Iodine

MINNEAPOLIS.—Persons living in Minnesota, and especially those living near Lake Superior, because of the goiterous condition of that territory should either eat foods rich in iodine content or drink water diluted with iodine, to lessen susceptibility to goiter, according to Dr. J. P. McClenon, of the University of Minnesota medical school, who has devoted much time to the subject.

Explaining that the human thyroid gland should normally contain 20 milligrams of iodine, Dr. McClenon declared that it is necessary to keep adding iodine to the system as the thyroid gland loses small quantities of this element through normal secretions.

Minnesota, because of its geological formations, Dr. McClenon pointed out, is composed of land which has been out of the sea for a long time and the earth in this territory has been washed of iodine by rains and other elements, hence grains grown here are deficient in iodine content. Whereas oats with the husks, raised in Minnesota, contain but 10 milligrams of iodine per ton, he said, the same grain raised in Connecticut contains twice as much, and that raised in Maine 15 times as much or 150 milligrams. There is some goiter in those two states, he added.

It then devolves upon people in this territory, Dr. McClenon suggested, to add to their iodine requirements by partaking of foods rich in it, or drinking water in which to the 10 milligrams of iodine per ton, he said, the same grain raised in Connecticut contains twice as much, and that raised in Maine 15 times as much or 150 milligrams. There is some goiter in those two states, he added.

NEW METHOD OF BEATING THE SLOT MACHINE GAME

Tuesday morning, while Mrs. Seyforth was alone in the Arcade restaurant, a well-dressed man entered. He showed her a notice which he said was from a district attorney. It bore the name of an attorney well known to everyone in Hennepin county. It stated that he should take the slot machine. Mr. Seyforth was in the restaurant just then, so Mrs. Seyforth for the stranger into the machine. It contained about $20 in cash and a few dollars' worth of bonds. The stranger stepped into a Chevrolet car and drove off. A few minutes later Mr. Seyforth entered the restaurant. He observed that the stranger was not a man sent out by the government, and he was at first supposed to be, but a soldier. It was known where the stranger went or who he was.—Watchdog, Times Herald.

WEALTHY CHINESE FORCED TO RANSOM THEIR DEAD KIN

Gang of Bandits Resort to Extortion Methods as Old as Country

PEKING.—A practice almost as old as China itself—that of extorting money from wealthy Chinese by threatening to desecrate or by actually desecrating ancestral graves—has been revived by Hunan bandits.

Nanyang, in the middle of Hunan province, offers an outstanding example of this revival. Once a thriving town and the home of Chu-ko Liang, famous hero and strategist of the time of the Three Kingdoms, has become a bandit stronghold. Virtually all the wealthy Chinese have long since fled the place to escape extortion. But the bandits still have a grip on them. By threatening to exhumate the bones of their parents or other ancestors, the most sacred things conceivable to the mind of the Chinese, and to burn them or scatter them to the four winds, the bandits are virtually certain of receiving ransom money from these wealthy people. They are just as certain of the money as if they had possession of the victim of extortion himself or of his living relatives.

Moreover, even in the event a captive is killed owing to delay on the part of friends or relatives in paying ransom money, the body still remains to be ransomed to save it from desecration.

It is said there are at least 40 gangs of bandits centering around Nanyang and occupying more than 50 villages in the surrounding territory.

The gangs range in number from 600 to 2,000 members each. Each is striving to attain the fame of the infamous "White Wolf" who for years terrorized portions of Hunan province.

before banditry became such a widely recognized profession. "Wang the Monk," "Chang the Ninth" are titles assumed by three of the gang leaders. No apparent effort is being made by the military authorities to suppress these gangs.

ENERGY OF POWER PLANT DOUBLED BY A MERCURY VAPOR

Fifty Per Cent Gain in Power Per Pound of Fuel Achievement of New Boiler

SCHENECTADY.—By The Associated Press.—Power from mercury vapor, making possible a double power plant in which turbines for generating electricity are driven both by mercury vapor and water vapor from the same fuel source, resulting in a gain of about 50 per cent in power per pound of fuel, is the outstanding achievement of a new boiler patented by the General Electric company.

The last great step in improving the efficiency of manufacturing power was the replacement of the reciprocating engine by the steam turbine. The invention of the mercury vapor boiler is regarded as a greater step in the progress of science.

The modern steam turbine is about 10 per cent more efficient than the best reciprocating engines, but according to W. L. R. Emmet, consulting engineer for the General Electric company and inventor of the new process, the mercury boiler is more than 50 per cent more efficient than the best steam turbine.

The mercury boiler is an experimental boiler, but like all great ideas in engineering, it is based on a principle that has been known for centuries. It is the principle of the steam engine, which uses the heat of a fire to produce steam, which in turn drives a piston or turbine.

The mercury boiler is a new type of steam engine. It uses a fire to heat a boiler, which in turn heats a mercury vaporizer. The mercury vaporizer produces a high-pressure mercury vapor, which drives a turbine. The turbine is connected to a generator, which produces electricity.

Paper Mill Waste Found to be Excellent for Peas and Alfalfa

MOSINEE, Wis.—More than 40 carloads and several hundred wagon loads of "lime sludge" have been removed from paper mill waste deposits here to be used for agricultural purposes.

According to reports by County Agent W. J. Hogan, farmers are getting results with this time waste. George Otto, near Knowlton, used six cubic yards mostly on peas and alfalfa. Where sludge was used, the alfalfa stand was excellent, he reports, while the remainder of the field has been a failure. Peas were from 18 to 12 inches taller where limed.

H. W. F. Spenger of the soils staff of the state college of agriculture, reports that the paper mill at McMill in Portage county also is supplying "lime sludge." County Agent J. A. Peterson of Wood county, has just completed arrangements with the Neenah Paper company to place the waste where farmers can secure it. The lime is furnished free. There is no charge except where loaded on cars, when a charge sufficient to cover the cost of hauling continues, several thousand cubic yards of lime that formerly was wasted will be saved and used for agricultural purposes before the next crop planting season, according to officials.

As a result of the project, sixteen growers passed in inspection with a total of 94.5 acres with an approximate production of twenty carloads of certified seed stock. "As a means of assisting the growers in marketing their seed stock, a certified growers organization was reorganized which has formed plans for advertising and marketing this year's crop. WALLY VAN COMING TO CASINO

How many of you remember Wally Van? Back in the days when movies were just becoming popular, Wally was among the shining faces that peered out at the public, which was still amazed at seeing pictures actually moving, and along with John Bunny, "Bunchy Billy" Anderson and Flora Finch, he built up such popularity, as a comedian that, it is safe to say, is rivaled by no one today. Of course Wally was just a boy then and for that matter he still is, but a few years ago he left the movies flat, never to return.

It's like everything else, this movie game, and "they" say, if you once get the sand in your shoes, you are bound to go back and so here is another case where "they" are right. Van's first picture since his return is "The Drivin' Fool," which will be shown at the Casino theatre Friday.

"The Affairs of Lady Hamilton" is based upon the last love affair of Lord Horatio Nelson, British naval hero, and offers all of the pomp and splendor of court life which prevailed in those days, as well as a heart touching story of a woman's great sacrifice and inspiring love which was responsible for this great man's victory.

The mob scenes, where thousands and thousands of people were used, are wonderfully thrilling and realistic.

PURPLE SWIMMING CHAMPION BANNED FOR TWO WEEKS

Takes Co-ed to Dance Hall Not on Dean of Women's "Approved List"

CHICAGO, Ill.—Hopes for a national swimming championship were dashed Thursday at Northwestern university when Bob Skelton, world's champion breast stroke swimmer at the Purple school, was suspended for two weeks because he took his partner at the annual junior prom to a dance hall not on the dean of women's "approved list" following the dance last Friday night. Skelton is one of three men who have been suspended from the Purple school.

The suspension of Skelton virtually means that he will be unable to compete in his senior's work, which was scheduled to make him eligible for the varsity squad. Both Skelton and Dick Howell are second semester freshmen. With a year of residence established on Feb. 1, 1921, they were slated to come to the conference in all of their events, then travel to New York and swim away with a half dozen national intercollegiate records. In addition to the breast stroke event, Coach Tom Robinson was planning to use Skelton in the back stroke.

Students Recent Action

Feeling on the Purple campus was running high Thursday, despite the disbanding of the students for the holidays. The consensus of student opinion seems to be that the faculty had no right to suspend Skelton, because he had violated no provision of the student manual.

They point out that Skelton's partner was a University of Michigan co-ed, and, although she had formerly attended Northwestern, neither she nor her partner had violated any Northwestern rule.

Violated No Rule

"Most of us took refreshments somewhere after the dance," declared one prominent promenade. "You aren't supposed to go to early on prom night anywhere in the country. Plenty of other girls were out and violated regulations as to the places they should visit. Why, then, should they punish Skelton, when he violated no rule?"

The girls who accompanied the wayward students, including Skelton, have been "compulsed" or made to remain in their dorms and study every "date night" until Easter.

Take Recess Until After Christmas Vacation When New Schedule Will be Made

In the last series of games to be played before the Christmas vacation, the Junior basketball league completed the week's schedule. The games will be continued again after the vacation, and a new schedule will be made.

In the games on Thursday night the Polar Bears defeated the Badgers, by the score of 16 to 5. Brilliant team work pulled over their victory. Nelson was the hero of the Bears and was held down for scores by his team mates when they needed them. He had 5 field goals and two free throws to his credit which made up almost the entire scoring. On the Badger team, Nimocks was the main spring, having made one field goal and 1 free throw.

In the class B group the Mudhens defeated the Cardinals 7 to 0. The Cardinals had good team work, but could never sink their feet through the legs. On the other side the Mudhens had good team work during the last half, but in the first half their offensive was no good.

Wolf and Fritz were the stars of the Mudhens. Wolf having three two-pointers to his credit while Fritz added six mostly by his brilliant shooting. On the other side Schaller was the star. Although he only scored one point for the first time since the organization of the league.

In the last game "Chit" Nelson's Bears were defeated by the Cardinals 12 to 6. It was the first time Nelson's team had been defeated. The Bears had good team work, but still the Cardinals were the winners. The score was 12 to 6 in favor of the Cardinals.

But many fans of this section are asking themselves if McGinnity actually will quit next spring, when the warm sunshine starts to dry up the baseball fields and players are starting their training.

Charles Francis Potter, pastor of West Side Unitarian church, and Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, and one of the most prominent leaders of the so-called fundamentalist or conservative element among Protestant denominations.

Rev. Potter was awarded the judges' decision in the first debate Thursday night when he upheld the negative side of the question: "Resolved, that the Bible is the infallible word of God." His victory, however, was won on presentation of his arguments, for the judges did not base their decisions on the merits of the question itself.

HONG KONG.—By The Associated Press.—Advisors from Canton state that numerous placards are appearing in the streets of the southern capital during an anti-American and anti-British boycott as a result of the attitude of the foreign powers in the present customs surplus imbroglio.

Some of the placards appeal to the people to unite to obtain the Kwangtung customs surplus in order to save the Chinese nation.

Are Loan Security

The Chinese customs are collected under supervision of the powers by treaty which makes them a guarantee for the payment of charges.

China's foreign loans, Sun Yat-sen, leader of the South China government, which is at war with the main administration, claims that the surplus should be turned over to him instead of being given to the Northern government.

Sun's recent threat to seize the customs at Canton caused the powers to send a number of gunboats to the coast.

Invokes British Labor

HONG KONG.—The Associated Press.—Sun Yat-sen, head of the Canton government, Friday telegraphed to Ramsey MacDonald, leader of the British labor party, asking him to bring to that nation's people the workers' and peasants' cause which the British representatives in China have been ignoring in creating at Canton.

"My government is being threatened with acts of war by an international force of nearly a score of countries at a time when we are already hampered in the foreign section of Canton, where the administration officials of other nations are located," the cables say.

"This is the work of the diplomatic legation of the British administration, on advice of the British consul general, and the Chinese consul general, and the Chinese consul general of Chinese maritime powers, and who is a British national."

Sun reminds the British labor leader.

NORMAL CHRISTMAS
MUSIC PROGRAM IS BRILLIANT SUCCESSGlee Clubs Well-trained and Responsive to Direction of Leader

(By J. C. EASTON)

The Christmas musical program of the Normal School was given at the Auditorium last night under the direction of Mr. Joseph Leeder before a packed house. When we arrived, the only available seating space seemed to be a small section of the floor in the balcony, which we occupied and from this point we proceeded to spend a very enjoyable hour—a difficult task for any concert.

Club Well Trained

Mr. Leeder is a man with a great deal of drive and energy, which we have before had occasion to notice during his successful efforts at least ing the Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce—two not particularly musical organizations—and we therefore expected him to inspire his chorus with his own enthusiasm. In this we were not disappointed, and the result was a brilliant success. His Glee Clubs are well trained and follow his indications very closely, and the only criticism we can make is in the matter of pitch, which at times was a little off.

"The Coming of the King" by Dudley Buck was the work presented, an effective and very melodious cantata. The Women's Chorus distinguished itself particularly in the "Plains of Bethlehem" which was beautifully intoned. Of the soloists, Miss Miller pleased us much, her voice being of lovely quality. Miss Ross sang "Virgin's Lullaby" very well, and Mr. Hirschheimer executed his solo with his customary virtuosity.

Carols At Close

The evening ended with the singing of "Adeste Fideles" and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" by the full chorus. The music lasted all too short a time for us. In closing, we wish to commend the lighting arrangements, which might well be adopted at the other concerts held at the Normal School, as well as the lectures. The hall was in darkness, only the stage being suffused with a soft glow which was very restful to the eyes. At the appropriate moment, the star over the stage was illuminated, producing a very pretty effect.

FRENCH DECRY GERMAN MOVIES

PARIS.—By the Associated Press.—Many Frenchmen believe the Germans are conducting an anti-French propaganda through the movies. They point to the fact that the scandals of French history; night life in Paris, and unfavorable aspects of French politics are used so often by the German producers that the purpose clearly is to hurt French prestige.

SPARTA HIGH AND ALUMNI PARTY IS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Novel Program Arranged by Committee; Legion Gives New Year Dance

SPARTA, Wis.—The annual high school and alumni party will be held in the gymnasium of the new high school building, on Wednesday night, Dec. 26. It will doubtless be one of the most interesting and enjoyable events of the holiday season. The committee in charge of the program have arranged something new and novel, and a ten-piece orchestra will furnish the music for those who wish to try the light fantastic.

The school board kindly offered the use of the new gymnasium, and the many students and alumni who will be at home for the holiday vacation will be given an opportunity to inspect and enjoy this part of the new high school. This party is held annually for the high school students, teachers and the alumni, and is looked forward to with much pleasure.

In keeping with an established custom, the Grange, L. Arnold post of the American Legion will sponsor the New Year's dance, to be given in Sparta at the Assembly hall. This will be one of the big social affairs of the holiday season. D. C. Sullivan, A. E. Sutherland and P. B. Hoffman are the committee in charge of arrangements. First class music will be provided for the occasion. The hall will be appropriately decorated for the event and a delightful time will be in store for all who are present. The date is Monday night, December 31, New Year's Eve.

A conference of state graded school teachers was held in Leon, December 15. This was the last of a series of thirteen meetings which have been held in representative schools in Monroe county, under the direction of County Superintendent of Schools M. H. Hoyer and the supervising teachers. Opportunity was given the visiting teachers to observe teaching classes, work with Miss Smith and Miss Keller in demonstration classes. The afternoon was spent in a discussion of the teaching class work and of individual teachers' problems. A very bounteous dinner was served at noon by the Leon ladies and a social hour was held. The participants were well represented by their respective teachers, and about thirty patrons of the Leon district attended the meeting and greatly enjoyed the work and their presence was a help to the teachers.

HUSBAND KILLED BY AUTO

ISHPEMING, Mich.—Clara Lefgren, aged 25, of Marquette, Mich., was killed when hit by the automobile of Joseph La two for burglary. The three men broke into a store at Arcmore, Fall River county and escaped in a stolen car with considerable loot.

MODEL SCHOOL HAS ENJOYABLE PROGRAM AT NORMAL SCHOOL

"On Christmas Eve" (Margaret J. McElroy) was presented yesterday morning at 10:45 o'clock in the La Crosse Normal school auditorium under the direction of Miss Louise Miller, music supervisor, by the students of the model department of the school. About 800 parents, friends and students attended the program which included Christmas music, dramatization, and dancing.

The program was one of the most elaborate ever presented by the department and scored an immediate hit with the audience. The music that featured the program was beautiful. The chorus that sat in the balcony and sang during the performance rendered some of the most beautiful Christmas songs in a lovely harmonious manner. The children all responded to the able direction of Miss Miller. The staging of the production was also very good.

Those participating did their parts exceptionally well. Miss Miller was assisted in the production by Miss Heinlepp, Miss Emma Wilder, and Miss Florence Foxwell at the piano. The carols sung by the chorus were as follows: "Holy Night, Silent Night," "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing," "The First Noel," "Star of Wonder," "O, Holy Night," "Sleep Holy Babe," and "O, Come All Ye Faithful."

The characters in the play were as follows: Characters: Hilda and Barbara (two little waifs), Betty and Frances (Wise Girls), Godmother (Glen Morgan), Ole Smiley (Clara Kroner), Christmas Angel (Grades I and II), Christmas Elves (Florence Evenson, Grades I and II), Grandmother (Emmalene Krause, With grandchildren, Grades V and VI), Boys and Girls (King Wenzel's Story, Grades VII and VIII), Mummies (Grades IV, V, VI and VII), Kings—Robert Muensted (Grade IV), Charles Leveland (Grade VI), Nathaniel Hartwell (Grade VI).

57 years ago by Welch Ashley to be used as a storehouse in connection with his general merchandise store. The material for the building was brought here overland from Windom. No nails were used in the construction of the warehouse, wooden pegs and wooden spikes taking the place of the wire nail.

STUDENTS EARN WAY THROUGH COLLEGE BY VARIED WORK

EVANSTON.—Six hundred men and women who are students at Northwestern university are working their way through school this year, according to figures prepared by university officials. Fifty per cent of the men on the campus are employed in part time jobs and 20 per cent of this group depend on their own earnings to pay their way through school. The range of work being done by men students includes clerking and waiting on tables, house work, washing dishes, cleaning windows, serving as chauffeurs, night watchmen, motor-men, tutors, hotel clerks and switch-board operators.

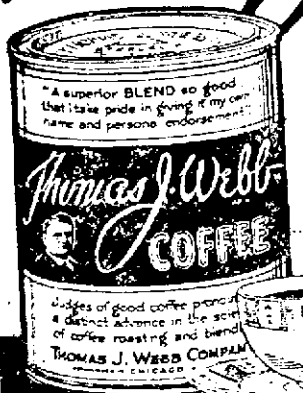

The old fashioned college girl who regarded work outside the curriculum as "demeaning" is disappearing from the university and a new type is taking her place, said officials announcing that maid service in the homes of Evanston families is one of the more popular positions that many Northwestern girls have accepted. Taking care of little children during the afternoon hours is another job in which a number of girls are engaged. Secretarial work also has a strong bid for favor among the young women students and not a few are working in the capacity of clerks and stenographers in Evanston business offices.

The Market Basket Wishes You All a Merry Christmas

CAPACITY AUDIENCE HEARS CHRISTMAS CANTATA AT NORMAL

"The Coming of the King" Features Many Beautiful Solos and Choruses

A most impressive, beautiful event was the presentation of the Christmas cantata, "The Coming of the King" (Dudley Buck), by the members of the women's chorus, men's chorus, or orchestra. Miss Louise Miller, Miss Ethel Ross, Miss Hirschheimer and Prof. Joseph Leader, head of the music department of the La Crosse Normal school at the school auditorium last evening. A capacity audience heard the music and responded and thrilled to every number on the program. The cantata was one of the most beautiful ever heard in the city and enough praise cannot be given to those that participated and directed the music. The program opened with the professional, "Adagio Elegiac" in which the members of the two choruses and the soloists marched into the auditorium and from the rear and sang until they reached the stage. All of the members wore white surples over black gowns. The stars were simply draped with a gray capelama that was put in the center to reveal an artistically decorated Christmas tree. A large gold star hung from one side of the ceiling. During the singing, the auditorium was dark and blue and red lights on the stage formed a beautiful lighting effect for the singers.

The cantata started with the story of the prophecy of the angel and carried through to the story of the holy child. The interpretation of the music was wonderful. The tone work and harmony showed that time and earnest effort had been spent to make the cantata beautiful. Miss Ethel Ross in her alto solo, "Victim's Lullaby," sang one of the most appealing and beautiful selections of the group. Miss Louise Miller held the audience spellbound in her rendition of the soprano solo, "Adoration." Hal Hirschheimer, who took the place of Clyde Russell, sang a number of solos that were lovely. Prof. Leader with his bass solos sang beautifully. The orchestra showed considerable sympathetic ability in their accompaniments.

Those that participated in the program are as follows:

Orchestra—Margaret Bennett, Louise Krieger, Arthur Krentz, Mrs. Mellick, Eldon Mulder, Donald Kiehn, John Spratt, Howard Schur, Fred Schur, Edward Schweizer, Alfred Schumann, Edward Tensick, How-

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN AFFECTS SMALLER CITIES

Inspiration for Aggressive Work in Sale Found in Prizes Offered

Competition is strong among Wisconsin's local tuberculosis associations. Efforts to secure an unusually large sale of Christmas seals and thereby procure for themselves the services of a follow-up tuberculosis worker are being made by cities having local tuberculosis associations, according to reports received from Milwaukee headquarters of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association. La Crosse is one of the cities having a local association.

The twelve weeks' services of such a trained worker will be the prize awarded to the city having local associations affiliated with the state association, which have the largest per capita sale of Christmas seals. This worker will work under the direction of the local association and do field survey or follow-up work relating to tuberculosis or will institute such a special health program as the local association may desire to undertake.

The twelve weeks' service will be divided as follows: Six weeks of service to the city of 50,000 population or over making the highest per capita sale of seals; four weeks of service to the city of 10,000 to 50,000 population making the highest per capita sale; and two weeks of service to the city of 1,000 population or less making the highest per capita sale. Cities having no local associations are not entitled to compete.

Several Wisconsin cities, Ashland, La Crosse and Kenosha, understanding the value of this follow-up work in connection with the campaign against tuberculosis, employed the follow-up worker recently added to the staff of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association for short periods of three this year and have found the work of great value.

A suggested outline for tuberculosis follow-up work has been drawn up by the state anti-tuberculosis association. This outline is divided into four parts.

TRIO ARRESTED FOR DEATH CALL AT FOND DU LAC

FOND DU LAC, Wis.—Three men were arrested by police here late Thursday afternoon on suspicion of having sent a death threat which resulted in the suicide of Mrs. Matt Burns earlier in the day. The men are Tom Mason, 53, of Hamilton, Ontario; James Burns, alias Joe Dempsey, 60, of Milwaukee; and James Kinder, 47, of Belling, Ohio. Mrs. Burns swallowed poison and died in her home here after receiving a telephone call which, police say, threatened her with death for turning state's evidence against three men who are charged with the robbery of the Campbellport postoffice December 12 and who were arrested in a police raid on Mrs. Burns' home two days later.

WILLMAR GETS IOWA CORN. STOUN CITY, Iowa.—An extraordinary heavy movement of corn, from the bulk going to Willmar, Minn., from the territories served by the Great Northern railway, is reported here. This movement, which began about Dec. 1, and has been growing since, is forcing the terminal facilities of the railroad unusually busy. Between 50 and 100 cars of grain, practically all of which is corn, is being handled by the Sioux City division each day.

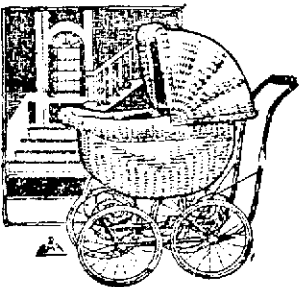

RUSH "SPRING" PLOWING. ALBERT, Lea, Minn.—Reports from all over southern Minnesota as to the effect that farmers are out in the fields with their teams and tractors, busily engaged in their spring plowing. Fountain and Lower Albert Lea lakes are opened again.

FORGER JAILED AT WINONA. WINONA, Minn.—Harry Whitte, 32, who told police his home was in St. Paul, was bound over to the district court here on a charge of forgery when he waived examination in municipal court. He was held in default of $500 bail.
